

PUBLIC LEADER

THIRD YEAR.

MAYSVILLE, KY., FRIDAY, MARCH 2, 1894.

ONE CENT.

IT'S SO IF IT'S IN THE LEDGER.

The Alum Springs Hotel, near Danville, burned, with a loss of $10,000.

LEZZIE BANION, a colored lady, was given a fine of $3 and costs for being drunk and disorderly. Just a slight token of regard.

Is the Police Court yesterday Thomas Morgan was only fined $1 and costs for being drunk and disorderly. Tom wasn't very drunk and it was his first offense.

WEEKLY PUBLIC LEDGER.

The First Number Will Appear Saturday, April 27th.

In response to a very general demand, THE LEDGER will begin the publication of a weekly edition, the first number of which will appear Saturday, April 7th.

The weekly will take the old name, MAYSVILLE REPUBLICAN.

It will comprise 8 pages, 40 columns in all, and the subscription price will be $1.50 a year—strictly in advance.

No paper will be sent longer than the time paid for.

This will not interfere with the publication of THE DAILY LEDGER.

Subscriptions for the Weekly may be sent in now, to begin April 7th.

NOT THE RAILROAD.

But Another Willie Moore Who Was Recently Married.

The report of W. D. Moore, C. and O. brakeman, being married is wholly untrue. The gentleman who cast his lot otherwise was from the Sardis neighborhood and not a railroad.

No, girls, W. D. Moore, the C. and O. brakeman, is not married; at least he did not mean him in last Saturday's LEDGER.

THE WILL SUSTAINED.

The Jury in the Bramel Will Case Soon Finish Their Work.

The Bramel will case was very promptly decided yesterday in the Circuit Court after it had been given to the jury.

As stated in THE LEDGER the arguments were finished Wednesday and all that was done yesterday morning was the giving of the instructions by Judge Harbison.

The jury was out about fifteen minutes when they returned with a verdict sustaining the will.

While the verdict was a surprise to many, no one who heard the testimony was or could be surprised, and no evidence of importance was introduced to prove that Mr. Bramel was not in his right mind at the time of making the will.

It is understood that no appeal will be made to any higher court.

A YOUNG THIEF.

Arrested With a Pocket Full of Nice Cheesing Gum.

Jack Shepard, a young Cotton Mill lad, about 14 years of age, who lives on Short street, was arrested last evening by Officer Stockdale.

The little fellow had made his way into the grocery of Allen Dodson at the corner of Second and Wall streets, and had his pockets filled with chewing gum when captured.

He had crept in behind the counter while the members of the store were in the rear and was taking all in sight when captured.

The little fellow is very bright looking and when Officer Stockdale arrested him he gave three different names before he gave his right one. He is the same lad who stole a quantity of handkerchiefs at Hechinger's some time ago.

When he was brought into the Police Court room several members of the Council were present and Mr. Lane, after talking with the unfortunate little fellow, requested his release, and the boy, with tears in his eyes, promised he would never steal anything again.

WHAT THEY DID.

THAT IS, THE HONORABLE CITY COUNCIL LAST NIGHT.

Judge Wadsworth Makes Some Excellent Suggestions Regarding New Laws, &c.—A Big Lot of Orders Issued.

City Council met last night in regular session, and in spite of the pleasant evening all the members were present at roll call except Mr. Pearce.

The meeting was called to order at 7.30, a half hour later than the regular meetings of the winter.

Reports of the various committees and city officers were read and received by Council.

The report of City Treasurer Fitzgerald showed the receipts of his office during the first month to be $2,696.86, while the balance in his hands at the beginning of the month was $1,289.40, making a total of $3,986.26. The expenses were $6,000.71, leaving a balance of only $985.55 in the Treasury. The expenditures were as follows:

Alms and Almshouse	$ 292.65
Boarding and guarding	33.50
Gas and electricity	452.35
Interior improvements	43.98
Lighting	39.00
Police	275.00
Salaries	183.33
Sundries	342.42
Coupons	3,092.50
School Fund	1,065.00
Total	$6,000.71

The report of Police Judge Wadsworth showed that during the last month $225 had been assessed in fines, of which amount $63 had been paid into the School Fund.

On concluding his report he adds: Supplementing this report, I feel it my duty as the chief judicial officer of the city, to solicit the attention of the honorable Board of Council to the imperfect state and condition of our municipal laws.

Many of the ordinances which were in effect some twenty years ago, while still upon the code of ordinances and laws of the city, are now inoperative, obsolete and useless and should be repealed by act of Council.

While many of such municipal statutes, which are valid and in effect at this time, are to be found only by reference to the clippings of the newspapers running back some eight or ten years.

The business of the Police Court and its officers, as well as that of the legislative department of the city, seem to demand the re-codifying of the city laws in order to conduct with some degree of facility the serious duties with which they are delegated, and I should feel that I am not fairly and faithfully discharging the responsibilities of my position if I failed to urge this matter to the attention of your honorable body.

After the reports had been received the regular routine of business was begun and kept up until after 10 o'clock.

The business done is best told in paragraphs:

The coffee-house license of John Dersch was ordered transferred to Henry F. Otto.

Permits were granted for building to Williams Tills, Omar Dodson, W. B. Dawson, T. P. Hopper, Dawson Bros., J. Trisler, B. F. Williams and Mrs. Mary Hettlin.

C. F. Taylor was granted auctioneer's license.

The Law and Ordinance Committee was ordered to prepare an ordinance regarding the blocking of streets by railroad cars. This is especially meant for the C. and O. Railroad in the Fifth and Sixth wards.

The property owners on Second street East of Wood were ordered to put down brick, stone or gravel walks in front of their premises.

Then the C. and O. Railroad was got after again and their contract with the city will be looked up. In that the road agreed to furnish a flagman at the corner of Commerce and Lexington streets, but as yet they have failed to do it, and now the city is going to see what is the matter.

An ordinance regarding cruelty to animals was read for the first time.

The city finances are again getting low, and bonds Nos. 5 and 6 were ordered to be sold.

After an argument on the propriety of supplying the city with police registers the meeting adjourned.

The many friends of M. R. Gilmore will be glad to know that he is improving under his treatment at Hot Springs, Va.

MARRIED at the residence of the bride's parents, near Cottageville February 28th, 1894, George A. Gillespie and Miss Martha L. Adams, Elder T. P. Dugman officiating. The bride is tall and graceful and a pronounced beauty. She is only 19 years old, but has the sense and judgment of one much older. The groom is 26. He is a man of excellent traits and fine sense which he has proven by having secured a lovely little cottage in which he will go to housekeeping at once. He has money in bank, a lovely wife and a host of friends who all join in congratulations.

NERVES WERE UNSTRUNG.

MRS. SHORT WAS LEADING A LIFE OF MISERY

Until She Used the Great Remedy, Paine's Celery Compound—The Burden of House-keeping Falls Heavily on Mothers.

House-keeping is growing less simple and more complex each year. A home that professes to be well regulated today is far more difficult to manage than was the same kind of a home fifty or sixty years ago.

Upon the women falls the burden. Many work themselves into nervous exhaustion. Many mothers grow so irritable that they feel at all times half guilty, fearing that their disease—for it is a disease—

First—No man since Washington ever had the influence on National legislation that Mr. Cleveland had in the beginning of his present term of office. This fact the editor of The Herald will not be ready to admit. The people gave him an ovation which was unprecedented and well nigh idolatrous. Opportunity was before him to place his name beside that of the immortal father of his country, and to live in the American heart for all coming time. But the multitudes most interested have waited for words of encouragement until hope deferred has become the heart sick.

Second—The trend of that mighty influence has been almost entirely toward such legislation as would make the gold shark richer and the laboring man poorer. That influence has been so wielded as to meet the approbation and never once provoke a criticism from the representatives of the oppressed gold power. They can completely reverse his whole official course and say: "Well done!"

Third—Amid the widespread destitution and want among the laboring poor, with 67,000 in his own city dependent upon charity, with 2,000,000 unemployed men in the United States, whose wives and children speak out from their hollow eyes that consuming hunger which no language can depict, still that mighty influence goes steadily on, such measures as must necessarily increase the powers of the oppressor and decrease the chances of the oppressed. Where is the next performed, the measure enounced, the word uttered to bring hope to the heart of the laboring man, and among the penniless millions when wife and little ones can live in hunger for bread? Echo answers: "What chance? We do not know!"

The Journal for the noble efforts to exercise and put the best possible coloring upon the sad and gloomy picture, and its honored proprietor have had recognition which we all in common appreciate, recognition for true and faithful service to the party. But after all and above all, we must have a more direct service in painful prominence—a suffering and disappointed people.

AMERICAN CATHOLICS.

A Man Who Does Not Believe in the Rule of Rome.

When our good Catholic friends understand that the A. P. A. is not opposed to the Catholic religion, but opposes only the placing of Romanism in political control of the country, they will have learned a valuable lesson.

In the midst of all the misrepresentations that have been made, it is pleasing to notice that one individual has a clear conception of the duties of American citizenship.

M. J. Cierhan, a Catholic of Jacksonville, Ill., has written the following to The Journal of that city:

As there is much speculation regarding the attitude of the A. P. A. toward the A. P. A. organization, I am free to state my opinion as fully and as freely as the occasion may require.

First—I believe in a bona fide Americanism: that is to say, that every citizen of this globe has the right to become an American in large capitals, that "he who runs may read."

Second—I believe every citizen of an American Republic should be an American first, that no nationality or ism of any kind should be a barrier to citizenship and allegiance to the Federal Constitution.

Third—I hold and believe that every foreigner that has been naturalized pursues himself whenever he parades under any flag but the Stars and Stripes, or subscribes directly or indirectly to any declaration of allegiance to any foreign prince, sovereign or potentate whatsoever, commits a crime, violates the plain language of our National Constitution. See Article I, Section 9. Unfortunately the execution of this clause is fast becoming obsolete, as here in Illinois W. J. O'Connell of Chicago is today the recipient of a title of honor from a foreign potentate.

Fourth—I hold and believe that any citizen of these United States who accepts a title of honor from any prince, sovereign or potentate whatsoever, commits a crime, violates the plain language of our National Constitution. See Article I, Section 9. Unfortunately the execution of this clause is fast becoming obsolete, as here in Illinois W. J. O'Connell of Chicago is today the recipient of a title of honor from a foreign potentate.

Fifth—I hold and believe that any citizen of these United States who accepts a title of honor from any prince, sovereign or potentate whatsoever, commits a crime, violates the plain language of our National Constitution. See Article I, Section 9. Unfortunately the execution of this clause is fast becoming obsolete, as here in Illinois W. J. O'Connell of Chicago is today the recipient of a title of honor from a foreign potentate.

Sixth—I hold and believe that any citizen of these United States who accepts a title of honor from any prince, sovereign or potentate whatsoever, commits a crime, violates the plain language of our National Constitution. See Article I, Section 9. Unfortunately the execution of this clause is fast becoming obsolete, as here in Illinois W. J. O'Connell of Chicago is today the recipient of a title of honor from a foreign potentate.

Seventh—I hold and believe that any citizen of these United States who accepts a title of honor from any prince, sovereign or potentate whatsoever, commits a crime, violates the plain language of our National Constitution. CATBERTSHIRE has been transferred to the column of fourth class cities.

JAMES JONES and Emma Jackson, both colored, were granted a license to wed yesterday.

SEVERAL families from Fleming county, on route to Kansas, were in the city yesterday.

It is now thought that the forgeries of William H. Headley, the Lexington dealer, will reach $50,000.

THERE is an effort being made to secure telephone services in this city. The price is now within reach, and the project should succeed.

CRAWFORD & CADY, the Model Grocers, have on hand at all times a select stock of staple and fancy groceries, home grown vegetables and dressed poultry. Ladies especially invited.

MRS. MARGARET GLENN, who has been visiting her son-in-law John Crawford at St. Louis, is seriously ill, and in response to a telegram her son Edward Glenn left this morning for that city.

It was Annie E. Means who was appointed committee to take charge of Frank Means instead of Mrs. Elizabeth Means as stated in yesterday's LEDGER. Mrs. Annie Means is his wife.

JOHN C. HENDON of Louisville is a candidate for State Treasurer. John himself is authority for the statement that he is going to be a very strong candidate, and that the man that defeats him will know that he has been to the races.

WILLIAM GREGSTON the Minerva eloped and his preliminary trial before Judge Weaver. The evidence went to show that Gregston had been intimate with Miss Jory for some time previous to the elopement, and he was held to the Circuit Court in the sum of $500 on a charge of seduction under promise of marriage. Senator Mills Leaves the Senate Finance Committee.

The Bill Has Now Been in the Hands of the Senate for a Month.

The Friends of the Measure Are Hoping For Its Ultimate Passage in Some Form. But in What Shape No One Knows.—Faulkner makes an Appeal.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—The tariff bill is now laboring in another period of peril which has been so often experienced in the past. The bill has been in the hands of the committee for a month, and the friends of the bill are now hoping for its ultimate passage in some form, but in what form no living man in Washington with any regard for the fate of the measure can venture to predict. Not one of the democratic members of the committee who have begun a series of objections to the bill, which Mr. Mills has now pointed out to the committee, will end Tuesday, can outline with any pretense to accuracy what the most important provisions of the bill will be when reported to the senate.

The tariff bill has now been in the possession of the senate, or at least of the finance committee, for the month of February. What the democratic members of the committee are now trying to accomplish is precisely the same task which proved too much for the ingenuity of the now extinct sub-committee of three; that is to conciliate between the recalcitrant democratic senators and the passage of the bill after its report to the senate.

Thursday they entered upon this task, holding a session which lasted almost without interruption, from 10 o'clock Thursday morning until late in the afternoon. In the morning the committee listened to the statement of Senator Mills, who has been put forward by Senator Gorman, of Maryland, to make the fight for a duty on coal before the committee. Mr. Gorman put Mr. Mills forward to make the same fight in caucus. In the afternoon, Senator Hill, of New York, appeared before the committee to renew his objections to an income tax to be levied for the further protection for all industries of New York which would be injured by the bill in its present form.

The republicans are preparing to oppose the undue haste of the majority of the committee, and will insist upon the consideration of the bill in full committee paragraph by paragraph. Should they be voted down in this and the bill reported, to renew their protest, it is said the republicans will at once begin a campaign of filibustering, the pros and cons of which are alleged to have been agreed upon for some weeks.

Mr. Mills has again withdrawn from the finance committee, upon which he has been placed as a substitute for Mr. Pherson by the senate. Mr. McPherson has been sitting with the committee for several days, and Mr. Voorhees has introduced a resolution, pending the appointment of Mr. Mills as substitute for Mr. Vance, who is ill. Under an objection by Mr. Hoar it went over Thursday. When it was read Tuesday morning, Mr. Voorhees arose and said it was impossible to persuade Mr. Mills to serve, and at his positive demand the resolution was withdrawn. This was done, and Mr. Mills is no longer connected with the senate finance committee.

Judge Long's Pension.
WASHINGTON, March 2.—Commissioner Lochran Thursday afternoon received a notice to Judge Long, of Michigan, to the effect that unless satisfactory evidence shall be furnished within thirty days from the date of the notice that he is disabled for pension alone as to require the regular, constant and personal aid and attendance of another person, his pension will be reduced from $72 to $55 per month.

A Bomb in the Hungarian Diet.
BUDA PEST, March 2.—A tin box, which was burned out of fire was attached, was found Thursday in one of the rooms of the Hungarian Diet. The discovery has caused a sensation, and the police are blamed for not taking proper precautions, after the warnings they have received and the threats made by anarchists.

Will Resign Saturday.
LONDON, March 2.—The Pall Mall Gazette, in its extra special edition, says: "Mr. Gladstone will have an audience with the queen on Saturday, and will then place his resignation in her hands. The public announcement will be made on Monday."

Tariff Commission.
WASHINGTON, March 2.—A resolution was offered in the senate by Mr. Cullum (rep. Ill.), and laid aside temporarily, for the appointment of a commission of nine members to equalize rates of duties on the basis of European and American wares.

The Treasury Statement.
WASHINGTON, March 2.—The public debt statement will show the general balance slightly less than $188,000,000, against $185,000,000 February 1 last, and the treasury has received $1,000,000,000 against $950,000,000 February 1.

Judge H. M. Stanley cleared of a Riddle.

OVERSEER, Ky., March 1.—The case against Judge H. M. Stanley, of Henderson, charged with sending a letter through the mails, has been prematurely dismissed by Judge Bell in the United States district court. This verifies the predictions of Mr. Stanley's friends, who have asserted their confidence in his innocence from the beginning. When the charges were pending last summer he was a candidate for city judge of Henderson, and although sick in bed at the time was elected by a handsome majority. His prompt discharge is a matter of congratulation on the part of his many friends here.

At the time considerable notoriety was given the case by the newspapers, the facts were distorted, and when the case actually came up for trial the judge threw it out of court as not worthy of attention. The obscene matter referred to were some circulars sent out from Chicago to many people. Mr. Stanley being among the number.

NIOCARAGUA CANAL.

A Congressional Inquiry as to Its Progress.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—Mr. Geary, of California, offered in the house a resolution directing the committee on commerce to investigate and report as to the condition, financial and otherwise, of the Nicaragua canal. The committee has been made in the construction of the Nicaragua canal. The committee is to have power to sit in Washington or New York, and to have power to send for persons and papers.

In explanation of his resolution Mr. Geary said that the company was given a charter five years ago, that it was reported in financial straits and unable to proceed with the work; and that it was pertinent, therefore, to discover if it was in a position to go ahead constructing the canal or not. The purpose of the resolution is also to ascertain if the Clayton-Bulwer treaty stands in the way of proposed construction of the canal, and if so, how that can be amended.

BOILER EXPLOSION.

Two People Killed at Free's Mills, Near Warsaw, Ind.

WATKINS, Ind., March 1.—A boiler explosion occurred at Free's mills, near Warsaw, Ind., today, resulting in the death of two men and the injury of several others. The explosion occurred while the boiler was being repaired. The cause of the explosion is a mystery.

Charles Dawson, the superintendent, was killed by falling timbers and slowly asphyxiated by the explosion. William Webb, the fireman, was also killed. The cause of the explosion is a mystery.

John Freely, one of the proprietors of the mill, was struck by a fragment of the boiler and both his legs were broken. He can not recover. Several other men were badly scalded and otherwise injured.

LABOR DAY.

The Congressional Committee Favors the First Monday in September.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—The bill to be added to the list of national celebrations. The committee on labor has decided to report favorably on the bill. The bill provides for the first Monday in September as a national holiday. Massachusetts was the pioneer state in declaring this day a legal holiday within the borders of that state, but since then seventeen states have followed in her steps. Pennsylvania, too, has made labor day a legal holiday, but the date in that state is different from the one observed in other states.

The members of the committee think that if the bill is passed it will serve the day as a holiday there is no reason why the celebration should not be made general throughout the country.

Will Vote on Bland Bill.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—In the house Thursday the rule to bring the Bland bill to a vote after two hours more debate was adopted by a majority vote. The bill would be immediately upon the announcement of the vote, which was 160 to 13, the speaker declared that in accordance with the rule the bill would be open for debate and amendment for two hours. Mr. Bland was recognized and offered a substitute for the original bill.

Bland's Seigniorage Bill Goes Through the House.

The Vote Constituted Exactly a Quorum, 166 Yeas and 13 Nays.

The House Also Passes the Bill Appropriating $45,000 to Make the Wreck of the Kearsarge.—The Text of Mr. Bland's Seigniorage Bill.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—By the votes of exactly the number that constituted a quorum, the seigniorage bill passed—166 yeas to 13 nays, a total of 179—the old limiting debate on the Bland seigniorage bill was adopted Thursday on the first roll call, and the end of the long fight has practically come.

The remainder of the day was devoted merely to making the bill secure. Mr. Bland offered a substitute for the pending measure, intended to obviate some of the objections urged against it, and several amendments were proposed. After debate under the five-minute rule, the proposed amendments were rejected and Mr. Bland's original bill was passed by a vote of 166 yeas to 13 nays, and passed, 168 to 135—fifty democrats voting against the bill and nineteen republicans for it.

The house then passed the bill appropriating $45,000 to raise the wreck of the corvette Kearsarge, sunk on Concord reef.

The Champion Prize Fought Did Not Take at Jacksonville, According to a Report.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 1.—Thursday afternoon the jury in the case against James J. Corbett, charged with beating the late Floridian by engaging in a prize fight, returned the following verdict:

"Be, the jury, find the defendant not guilty."

A wide smile overspread Corbett's face as he heard it, and the sports who crowded the courtroom would have cheered and cheered with him. Judge Phillips when the jury came in that he would send any person to jail for contempt who dared to express an opinion in the case.

Charles Mitchell was present when the verdict was announced, and he leaned over and grasped Corbett by the hand and congratulated him.

Late Thursday night Attorney General Lamar received a telegram from Mr. Mitchell stating that he had no more to say in the case, and that the proceedings would be left to his (Lamar's) discretion. This means that the cases against Mitchell and the members of the Athletic club will be not prosecuted.

BANK ROBBERED.

It Was Had Picked to Make the Junior Also Assistant Cashier, With Keys.

DIXON, Mich., March 1.—A daring bank robbery was committed about 7 o'clock Thursday morning. Two masked men with revolvers compelled the assistant cashier, O. C. Gregory, to open the vault, and with two revolvers, threatening him did so. Just as the bolts slid back he was knocked senseless, and was unconscious when found. The robbers were frightened away before they had time to secure all the money in the vault, and some of the money was scattered about the room. The bank estimates its loss at between $1,000 and $4,000. There is no clew.

Lord Rosebery Has Been Sent for on Some Business.

The Resignation of Mr. Gladstone is Momentarily Expected.

The Grand Old Man Entered the House of Commons Thursday and Was Loudly Greeted by the Members.

LONDON, March 2.—A full cabinet council was held Thursday afternoon. The subject of the house of lords amendments to the parish council bill.

Mr. T. P. O'Connor, in the sun, says that a rearrangement of the cabinet will take place when the resignation of Mr. Gladstone, which all now regard as impending, takes effect. Mr. O'Connor then points out the fact that though the queen sent for Lord Rosebery, the conflict for the premiership is not settled.

Gladstone entered the house of commons at 2:30 p. m. Thursday and was loudly cheered.

The grand old man took his accustomed seat between Sir Wm. Vernon Harcourt, chancellor of the exchequer, and Mr. John Morley, chief secretary for Ireland.

So soon as Mr. Gladstone was able to do so, he entered into a whispered consultation with Sir Wm. Harcourt and Mr. Morley, and then turned to the speaker of the house, Mr. Gladstone frequently consulted a small document which was handed him by the chancellor of the exchequer. The premier adjusted his pipe and seemed to read the paper handed to him without any difficulty.

In the meantime Lord Rosebery, secretary of state for foreign affairs, took a front seat in the peers' gallery. The entrance of Lord Rosebery attracted by attention from the members of the house of commons.

Mr. Gladstone then arose and addressed the house in his full resonant voice which occasionally was interrupted by a cough. He spoke of this business Mr. Gladstone spoke throughout with marvellous energy and vigor.
